Heidi,

I'm really going to miss in "SS" next year. I know you'll have a fantastic life because you deserve one. Don't forget about me and all the "dirty?" thoughts running through my head. I will let you forget one thing Mr. Bullock !!

I wish you could have came to San Fran with us. It was really an experience.

Thank you for helping me out this year. I hope I can make it through next year with-out all the seniors DOMINATION.

Kep in touch with us, please!

Lots of Love

Heidi -

Finally this year is over. It has been a real grew up experience. We (mentally) quite a bit and we got ourselves together. You are going to Stanford and me Allan H. But we will still keep in touch. Tennis was great. Thanks for helping me with Tennis this year. It will be Santa Monica was great and a feat ~~there~~ the along time before go on a trip like that. Make sure you take College one day at a time. And don't let any guys mess you up. Take Care of yourself and call or Tom for me. God Bless you and Keep ya.

Love Ya Always.

The Society

What happened?

What ever happened to the good old days when seniors were the 'hard guys' and they stood out at the 'empty locker' section during lunch judging all those who dared walk by? What ever happened to the time when seniors would cut classes and sit out at the patio tables? What about the way they worked together to make their senior year the best? What ever happened, why aren't the seniors the leaders anymore?

The empty locker section has been taken by underclassmen and a few 'loyal' seniors. Most seniors are rarely at school, let alone here during lunch. A state law was passed enabling students to take only as many classes as needed to graduate. Most seniors take one to four class periods. Many take work education, a program placing students in jobs for two periods, so these kids didn't even make an appearance at school. The leadership shown by the past seniors has been passed down to the juniors. Whereas the time use to go by too fast, now it's not going by fast enough.

This drastic change in the senior class has altered the whole society. Seniors did not take part in planning or being in assemblies, yet they complained how bad they were. Ex-commissioner of assemblies said, 'A commissioner is supposed to get people and ideas together and put on good assemblies. How do I do that without the student's help?' The car stuffing, licorice, and the bubble gum blowing contests during Homecoming were great. The activities involved a lot of students and turned out good. Are students only able to get involved in one week out of the year? When all the cheer and songleaders tried to put on a pep rally, the students would stare. The only time they would even open their mouths wasn't to cheer, but to say some smart remark. Are there clubs at Lompoc High? You wouldn't know it. Students joined and attended the first few meetings, then left the rest for the leaders. Some clubs went to a few exciting places; a fun Disneyland trip was the best reward of being a club member and sponsoring some dances. Whereas students used to jointly support the club now it is just a way to get your picture in the yearbook. Smoke Signal had a low number of issues out, one reason could have been there wasn't anything to write about.

What ever happened to our society? The class that once represented pride, leadership and involvement has become an endangered species, maybe with a chance of becoming extinct. Was it the seniors' fault for wanting to get out and start their futures earlier? Seniors may benefit as individuals in their new role but our society has suffered. Was it the underclassmens' fault for being inexperienced leaders? Were all the new changes that the students couldn't control, the problem? Things have changed a lot now, will the society continue to be the same in the coming years, or will it continue to change?

SHELLEY'S BIG NIGHT

This is the school, Lompoc High, California. The date: October 4-9, 1976. It was an average week in October; sunny, about 75. The Boss had been informed of some unusual activities at the campus. My assignment: case the situation. I dressed in my high school clothes (of the 1950's) and followed the crowds. The Boss was right. These kids were holding some strange activities. I observed large crowds of students gathered around to watch as others stuffed themselves into a car, as blindfolded volunteers were told to eat jello as fast as possible, and as they crammed bubble gum into their mouths in a jaw breaking effort to blow the first and biggest bubble. Friday the big rumble took place. Braves and Chargers fought it out. When the smoke and fog cleared, it was Lompoc 13, Dos Pueblos 7. All this was followed by a strange musical event called Nights on Broadway, which climaxed the Homecoming week activities.

Joe Aguilar escapes the clutches of a Charger to spark Lompoc's victory over D P.

HUMDRUM ?

Ho hum . . . was the attitude in the gym at most of the assemblies this year. Most students thought that the assemblies were uninteresting and monotonous. There were a few exceptions though, the Navy Rock band and Flip Reade assemblies were both well received. There were a few reasons for the drab assemblies. Paul Dugre, ex-commissioner of assemblies said, 'I had no outside help from other students and teachers. Also, the disrespect from the students didn't help the assemblies much to be big successes.'

REFRY THE BEANS

'Pull! Just a little bit more,' was the cry of the juniors as they tugged their way to victory in the tug-of-war contest during Cabrillo Week. This was just one of the many activities that gave the classes a chance to show their spirit. Other contests included jello eating, pyramid building, and the new faculty-student softball game.

BOGART & BYGONES

Grovers Corners? And you thought Lompoc was bad! But, Thespian members did portray it as a great place to raise a family in the play Our Town performed in March. Written by Thornton Wilder, the play broke all tradition in American Theater History by using no scenery of any kind and using the Stage Manager as a story-teller. Leading roles were played by Kevin Weeks, Barbara Montoya, Jay Trent, Mari Santori, Sam Mosby, Jon Arneson, Don Jenkins, Kathy Alvarez, and Tammi Walters. Director: Larry Bowen.

In May the Thespians presented a Dinner-Theater Show at the Royal Coach Restaurant as an experimental project. Tickets were $7.50, which included a buffet dinner and the three-act comedy Play It Again Sam by Woody Allen. Featured in the cast were Chuck Susee, Ryne Torres, Matt Stewart, and Janet Manfreda. Director: Larry Bowen.

BIG BLUE RIPS UP

It was predicted that Lompoc's '76' football season would be one of rebuilding. Northern League success was not to be expected, but Lompoc proved otherwise. After losing their first game to Inglewood, the Braves won ten successive games, capturing an undisputed Northern League crown, and reaching the C.I.F. quarterfinals, at South Pasadena.

BEANS BURNED

The Lompoc Valley Football Championship trophy is once again on display in the Lompoc High School trophy case this year, as a result of the Braves thrashing of Cabrillo. This year's victory is the third in succession for Lompoc, but unlike the last two contests, this seasons 'big game' proved to be a 'big shame' for Cabrillo foes. Lompoc scored a touchdown on their first possession, recovered the ensuing kickoff, and reached the goal line once again. The awesome Braves kept this pace throughout the entire contest, and the obvious mismatch ended with a lopsided 49-12 final score. This victory preserved a perfect 5-0 league record and left the Braves in sole possession of the Northern League Championship.

The crowd roared, the players cheered, and the Braves chalked up another victory on their way to the top. Their goal was to be the winners of CIF. Their chance for the crown came closer and closer as they advanced to the CIF quarter-finals, but their hopes were ended by a superb South Pasadena team, which pounded Lompoc to a 10-7 loss in a tough defensive struggle.

TACO TECH CRUNCHED

Highlighting the season for the J.V. and Freshman teams was a night game held at Huyck Stadium against Cabrillo. Both teams totally thrashed the Conqs for the second year in a row. The J.V. team, though small in number, demonstrated their winning ability as they tore through the season losing only once to the powerful Santa Barbara Dons. The Freshmen put forth their best effort compiling a 3-4-2 record, proving that with a little more experience they would be ready to play big time football.

HARRIERS CIF HOPE DENIED

The running Braves entered the 1976 season with positive thoughts, as they began their assault on their second league championship in a row. Considered the league favorites, the harriers started off earning a first place finish at the Moorpark Invitational. From here, the Braves performances became inconsistent. They managed to win 2 other invitationals, but lost 2 crucial dual meets to Righetti. Entering the league meet with revenge as their ambition, the Braves could only finish second behind Righetti, and their championship was nullified. Individually Lompoc was superb, led by sophomore Bobby Nunez who completed his undefeated league record by running away from all the others to place 1st in the league meet. Junior Scott Coe was an All-Leaguer for the second straight season, and J. J. Holoubek ran consistently during dual meets.

ONE THAT GOT AWAY

The 1976 Water Polo season was a collection of high points and low points, blended together to form frustration for the coaches and players. The aquatic Braves began their season in winning style, coming out on top in each of their first five games. After two nonleague defeats, the Braves began to sink their Northern league opponents one after another, including a nonleague victory over Cabrillo, and were in a first place tie with the Congs. The Lompoc-Cabrillo showdown proved to be a frustration for Lompoc, as they saw a comfortable two goal, fourth quarter lead develop into an overtime defeat. Something was gained though; Tom Denton was named 1st Team All-League, and Kevin Hicks and Kevin Lisle 2nd.

WET AND DRY GOAL

Water polo was a new beginning for the freshman players and some more experience for the JV players, as they prepared themselves for a spot on the varsity team of the upcoming years. The JV team consisted of mostly sophomores with a few juniors. The JV team's highlight was a win over Cabrillo at the end of their season. Title Nine got into the act again this year as three girls played on the freshman team. Although the freshmen and JV lost many of their games, they looked OK for a first or second time at it, for water polo is hard.

There is a first time for everything at our school, even soccer. Soccer became the 11th boys' sport at Lompoc High this year. The team did well too, compiling a 10-6-1 overall record and a 5-2-2 league record, which was good enough for second place. They wanted to make it into the CIF playoffs, and even though they were invited they didn't go. Their season ended 2 weeks before CIF began and since they were a second place team they thought they would not be allowed to go. So the team voted not to go after a two week layoff from practice.

It was a painful beginning for the Braves basketball team, but the agony of defeat was overcome by a sudden surge of victories. Led by four year starter and 1977 Northern League MVP Eddie Taylor, the losing trend early in the season was replaced by a spate of league victories. The close Northern League finish with San Luis on top and Lompoc and Cabrillo tied for second place enabled all three powerhouses to compete in CIF. Individually, Lompoc also excelled as Tony Jackson and Charles Farnum were also named to the second and third All-League teams respectively.

THE HAPPY HOOPERS

A well deserved 6-4 league record was the result of hours of hard work and determination for both the frosh and junior varsity teams. Outstanding freshman performances came from Ken Banuelos and Gene Margheim. Ken averaged 16 points per game in league and still shot 50%. Gene Margheim averaged 10 rebounds per game over the entire season. For the JV team Scott Robbins shot a consistent 78% on his free throws and also had the highest number of assists. This can be chalked up as a good year for basketball but unfortunately, there was a noticeable lack of interest displayed by the number of spectator's attending the JV game.

WIN OR LOSE MOSTLY LOSE

Although it did not always show in the scores, the girls' basketball team did work and try very hard. Getting up early to make it to 7 o'clock practice on Saturday morning wasn't easy, but the girls were willing to make that and many other sacrifices for the team. The team opened the season by traveling to the Atascadero Tournament where they suffered close loses to tough Shandon and Morro Bay teams. Then it was on to league play where things did not get much better. By mid-season they had yet to win a game, but their spirit yet remained. 'We did our best,' said coach Joan Reuveni.

MAKE SOME DECISIONS!

Determination is half the battle in any undertaking, especially sports. The varsity wrestlers found the determination under the coaching of Rodger Warner in his first year at Lompoc High. A former NCAA wrestler himself, Coach Warner's experience helped the Braves capture second place in league with an 8-2 record. At the CIF Southern Section Finals at Fountain Valley, the Braves ended up in 17th place out of the 450-school Southern Section. Two Lompoc wrestlers, Charley Cheney at 123, and Shawn Day at 98 both placed 4th in Southern Section which made them eligible to go to the State Meet in Sacramento. Both held a 4-2 record through CIF competition.

PINNING DOWN THE PROBLEM

The many hours of hard work and sweat during after school practice paid off in strong teams and winning spirits for the junior varsity and frosh wrestling teams this year. The JV team, under the guidance of Coach Jerry Hamsted, compiled a 5-5 record. The frosh, under Jerry Thompson's cunning strategy, finished the '77 season with a very impressive 9-4-1 record. Both teams showed promise for future varsity.

We apologize for a company mistake causing the absence of the JV team picture.

NET WORK

'Our main goal is to beat the teams we lost to last year,' stated Dave Bickmore, new boys' tennis coach at the beginning of the '77 season. Up against tough competition from Righetti, they hoped to defeat Arroyo Grande and take second place, which would enable them to participate in CIF. Coach Bickmore felt that his best hopefuls for CIF were singles players David Elam, Mike Tripe and Dan LeSueur; in doubles, the team of Ron Pickett and John Mintz. The team received new warm-up suits, which was the first time they had real uniforms.

The girls' tennis team ended their season with an above average 10-4 record, giving them a third place finish in league. Freshman Karen Hedlund victoriously emerged as singles champion, while Heidi Hedlund and Lillian Jackson took first place in the doubles competition. The team had several young, prospective players and are looking forward to a superior season next year.

FLY LIKE AN EAGLE

Kept on course by sophomore captain Scott Sperber, the 1977 Brave golfers sported a young and skilled team. A double win over Carpenteria (V 421-472; JV 521-553) was the result of long tedious hours of practice at the Village Country Club. Team members constantly vied for varsity positions and Coach John Vass remarked, 'This competition should improve our team because each player is working as hard as they can to play on the varsity.' And not to be forgotten was the exceptional performance of Junior Craig Yates, top man, shooting in the seventies.

Tumbling into the act this year was a brand new JV team. For the first time ever gymnastics separated into a JV and Varsity division. Naomi Okun and Donna Grossi guided the Varsity team as captain and co-captain, while Amy Barnacastle led the JV.

Leaping to a League championship in 1976 left CIF competition in just arms reach. Naomi Okun and Donna Grossi qualified for CIF individual competition. FACTS: 10-0 in Northern League in 1976; went to second round CIF competition; Pat Griset, Varsity coach; Tammy Boe directed the JV team.

STRIDE TO THE TAPE

Sweat, aching muscles, and pride were among the main ingredients for the girls' track team. This year the team showed improvement in their various competitive events. A lot of satisfaction from winning and losing in a team was also displayed. The coach was Mrs. Karen Stensland.

Heidi, what a year this has been. Between Physics, Smoke Signal and Calculus I've gotten to know you pretty well. You're a sweet person and I know you will really succeed in life. Congratulations on all your achievements this year - you deserved them all. Good luck in college. Take care and keep in touch. Just think, we're gonna be freshmen all over again. Love, Diane S.S.

'77 SOFTBALL SUPERSTARS

This year's varsity team really had to be on the ball, following up the outstanding stats of the 1976 team. With seven returning to their starting positions they proved capable. Possessing not only quantity but also quality with '76 All-CIF stars like Lauren Morehart, 2nd CIF team, Carmela Martinez and Susan Imano, 1st CIF team, and CIF Most Valuable Player Janet Jeffers. The '76 team trotted right through the league games, taking league. They took a swing at CIF, losing to Cabrillo, taking 2nd.

SWINGERS EYE CROWN

The baseball Braves got off to a fast start this season, by winning both ends of a double header. Coming off a successful 17-8 season, the Braves were looking forward to another winning year. The team possessed 7 returning lettermen and 10 new faces, brought up from the JV and Frosh teams. Coached by Dan Bodary, Louis Domingos, Teddy Torres, and Tom Harmon, the Braves were definitely in the thick of the battle for the Northern League championship.

CHEERING: LOVE IT OR LEAVE IT

At the beginning of the school year there was a total of six cheerleaders, Kim Heard, Joan Katsuda, Sissy Lee, Susan Sperber, Jean Valencia, Ngaire Valenzona. By the end of January there were only three because of disciplinary actions by the sponsors and moving away. Having only three cheerleaders to cheer at most games was practically impossible. Still the remaining girls put up their best effort to attend all games. Problems caused these girls to take on a new addition, Denise Arthur, who had been elected spirit and had cheered with the cheerleaders at most of the activities.

IT WASN'T WHAT I EXPECTED...

'I was very disillusioned, it was my first year and I didn't expect the letdown. I feel this way partly because of the lack of spirit from the student body and because the problems we had were far more publicized than they should of been. I tried my hardest to be a good cheerleader but in the eyes of the school I seemed to have failed.' 'I enjoyed being a songleader this year. The squad wasn't as good as it could of been. The girls that left really spoiled it for the ones that stayed on. It's real hard to be expected to have a good group with only a limited amount of experience and members on the squad, it takes a lot of time, effort and criticism to be a cheerleader.' 'I was disappointed, I expected songleading all fun and glory. I soon realized it wasn't. You devote a lot of your own free time to be a songleader and all you get in return is not appreciation, but complaints from the student body and problems among the squad. Being a songleader takes a lot of work and no one seems to realize just how much time and work is behind songleading.' 'Cheerleading wasn't at all what I expected. At the first of the year we were unable to attend some games. When we didn't cheer at some games we were looked down upon, but now that we cheer at most games we are made more fun of and don't receive any support from the student body.'

'Wrestling today, basketball tomorrow! It seemed as though I never had any time to myself.' 'Really, I felt like quitting sometimes, but I still think that it would have been a lot easier if Stacey Cooke, Dianne Henson, and Donna Vincent hadn't quit. We could of split up at the games and still had enough people to do routines.' 'I know, it sure was a lot harder than I thought it would be. I mean going to all the games, painting all those signs, making all the teams' treats, and decorating the players houses.' 'Really, plus we had to give up all our after school time to learn and practice routines.' 'Oh, I didn't mind all that, what got to me was when people told us we had no spirit. NO SPIRIT! It wasn't US who had no spirit, it was the crowd! We tried to promote spirit, but we couldn't!' 'I know exactly what you mean, but even with all the problems we had, I liked being a songleader.'

MALES PEP UP CLUB

A co-ed pep club, long the dream of the all girl group, became a reality this year thanks to Title IX. The macho male members added charm to the group, not to mention muscle power, which came in handy when they papered bleachers before football games. After raising money through their annual Homecoming mum sale and by having a bake sale, the Pep Club highlighted the year with a trip to Magic Mountain.

SOFTBALL, SLAVES, AND FOOD

The Lettermen had their usual fairly active year. Besides working crowd control at basketball games and wrestling matches, they worked 2 concession stands, had 3 banquets, held a fund raising softball game, as well as the annual slave auction. All this work was to raise funds for the athletic department, and the lettermens' banquets. The clubs biggest problem was finding enough between season athletes to participate in club activities. The banquets, needless to say, were heavily attended. The officers were Tom Denton, President; Frank Silva, Vice-President; and Ron Garcia, Sec.-Treas. The Lettermen were sponsored by Mr. Dan Bodary and Mr. Clint Inglee.

CELEBRITY DAY FOR LETTERGIRLS

'What! You're making me pay a quarter for missing the last meeting. I didn't even know there was one. Bulletin, what bulletin? I didn't hear it in second period.' These were some of the more common replies when Lettergirls learned they had to pay a fine for missing meetings. Even though some of the members thought the fine was ridiculous, the fines proved to bring better attendance at the meetings. The girls worked hard at raising money by holding bake sales, working the concession stands at football games, and running the popcorn machine at lunch. The club attempted two social events, a Christmas and a swimming party but only six members attended each of them. But the bowling tournament and the stationery sale were successful under the outstanding leadership of President Peanut Herigstad and sponsor Pat Griset.

BUSINESS OUR GAME: SPIRIT OUR FAME

FBLA can surely be called one of the most active clubs at LSH. Members sold Halloween Insurance, posters and goodies at bake sales. FBLA had a canned food drive for needy families, served at the faculty Christmas dinner and sponsored a dance. Miss Katie Canale and Mrs. Shirley Gettings were the club's advisers. Members attended the Western Regional Conference in San Francisco, Southern Sectional Competition in Oxnard, and they planned to attend State Competition in April. Other activities they planned to hold were an Egg-a-Thon, car wash and Business Day. In May they planned to have a membership drive and hold elections for new officers. There were about 30 members participating in this year's club.

Unlike the Varsity cheer and song leaders, the J.V. cheerleaders kept up the image of being a cheerleader by doing their job with spirit and enthusiasm, proving that cheerleading is not a fading activity at LSH.

1. Watch it, or you're going to get salted, thinks Lorie Froelich. 2. FBLA members brought canned goods for needy families. 3. FBLA officers take in the sights on one of many trips. 4. You mean I have to clean this thing too? wonders Shawn Septer. 5. JV cheerleaders. 6. Raising spirits at a JV game is quite difficult to do.

KEYWANETTE KING TOM REIGNS LONG

One of the main events was the crowning of the Keywanette King, Tom Denton. The King is chosen by the members of the club who nominate the candidate of their choice. Keywanettes were busy with many fund raising events which were bake sales, popcorn sales and the selling of the ever popular See's suckers. The sponsor was Mrs. Young.

COMMUNITIES HANDY HELPERS

Supplying popcorn, drinks and baked goods for two hundred hungry debators at a Forensics conference was an undertaking tackled by the Keywanettes. Mainly a service club, they served the commuity by raising canned foods during the Christmas holidays for the needy, planning a party for the children at Martha Negus and giving a Firemen's appreciation day. 'We have really enjoyed aiding and assisting the community.'

1. 'What would our mothers say,' wonders Elaine Swanson and Roseanne Hannah. 2. 'This bake sale is giving me Excedrin headache number 2001,' mutters Heidi Hedlund. 3. 'All right suckers, want to buy a sucker?' asks Jen Groseth. 4. Lena Amar and Barb Simms find the Pledge of Allegiance engrossing. 5. Judy Quarles, Cheryl Harvey and Daksha Patel think the meeting is so exciting. Above: For Margaret Jacobs, relief is spelled ROLAIDS.

FLYING SPARKS AND SAVING MARKS

'I really enjoyed being involved in the German club this year,' was the feeling of one member. One of the reasons they enjoyed it so much was because of the many activities they participated in. They traveled down to Los Angeles for an event called German Day, which was a convention of German clubs from all over California. Selling peanuts at football games and selling candy at school were just a couple of money making projects. Mr. Monahan sponsored them through thick and thin of the 1977 year.

Auto club is really for the mechanics. At lunch meetings they talked about hot rods, oil changes, and spark plugs. Winter Nationals were attended by Mr. Gary Gettings and some club members in January. The club had 25 members and Mr. Gettings was the club's sponsor. Fund raising activity was the selling of snow-cones.

MARCHING TO THE BEAT OF THE BAND

Dirty towels, tables scattered with crumbs, and blistered feet in holey shoes were reminders of all the carwashes, bake sales, and bottle drives that the drill team sponsored to earn their way to camp last summer. It was worth the work; they were judged third most spirited school and were awarded a fifth place trophy for their military routine. Successful halftime and assembly performances added to the squads accomplishments. "Overall I think we had a very fine year" states captain Eileen Marek.

FLYING FLAGS FLIP FOR FUN

Once upon a time there were five ecstatic flag twirlers. Whipping, tossing and throwing their way to success at Santa Barbara flag camp, they won a first place trophy in a festival routine, a superior trophy for evaluations in their classes and twenty superior and excellent individual ribbons. During the school year, they competed at various state competitions. In Santa Ana they competed and made the finals, receiving participation ribbons. CLASSICAL STRINGS & THINGS

This year's Symphonic Winds and Orchestra were 'classic' examples of fine music. Striving for college level techniques in theory and performance, Mr. Weakley wouldn't settle for anything less. Many lunch time and after school hours were given up for section rehearsals and private practice. In spite of a slow start of having to break in new members, they quickly fell into the groove of things and proved to be worthy assets to the Symphonic Winds and Orchestra.

WEAKLEY'S WALKING WONDERS

'Wasn't that supposed to be in cut time, Mr. . . . ?' 'What, me wrong? I'm never wrong! I'm the greatest, I'm Jerry Weakley!' 'But it says right here . . . !' And so it was in Marching Band this year, plenty of laughs and lots of hard work. Led by drum majors Kevin Green, Mike Simpkins and Dennis Holmdahl, the Marching Braves displayed their precision marching techniques in front of the halftime crowds. The band tried to satisfy everyone's musical preferences by performing songs ranging from the golden oldies to today's disco tunes. Although the quantity was low, the quality was high as they demonstrated their determination in trying to be the very finest assembly of marching musicians possible.

MAKING THE MUSIC OF NOW AND THEN

Performing music for the Elks' Club was one of the activities taken on by the Dance Band this year. 'Have you ever seen a herd of elk fox-trot to Home on the Range?' 'Gee, I didn't know Elks could dance!' (HA, HA) 'We play any gig for a few bucks!' (LAUGHTER) In between jokes, the Dance Band did manage to play some serious music while impressing the dancing crowd. The Dance Band traveled to Dos Pueblos to compete in a jazz clinic and festival with 16 other schools on March 12.

In the beginning, there were one hundred and fifty eighth graders in the Junior High Choir. Only forty survived to go on into the Freshman Choir in high school. They spent their first year gaining confidence and learning the basic tecniques in hope of advancing to Concert Choir and ultimately being chosen as a Lompoc High Madrigal.

CHOR SINGS ON IT'S WAY TO THE TOP

This year Concert Choir was invited to attend national competition in Mexico City. The choir has been ranked one of the top high school choirs in California. Concert Choir brought home superior grades from the festival they attended last year and the choir plans to do the same at festival competition at Westchester in May. Concert Choir changed their uniforms this year and went to semi-formal dress. The main fund raising event was sucker sales. Besides regular rehearsal, Concert Choir had some night and some lunch time rehearsals.

UNCLE TIM'S MELODIC MADRIGALS

'It's 7:31, be back in your seats ready to sing at 7:35,' This could be heard on Thursday evening during Madrigal rehearsals throughout the entire year.

1976 was the first year the Madrigals couldn't be heard singing after school. Those rehearsals gave way to a Thursday night practice from 6:30 to 9:00. Evidently the change didn't hurt the quality of the group; they still were in demand to perform for organizations and clubs in the community, especially at Chritmas time.

Being together so much gave Madrigals a special feeling for each other. And this feeling of warmth was conveyed in the music whenever and wherever they sang.

For fund raising the Mads sold two types of suckers and had a pancake breakfast.

1. 'I've always told them I wasn't a soprano,' says Ryne Torres to himself. 2. 'I only have eyes for you,' thinks Iva Nunez of Mr. Mussard. 3. Not only are they good singers, they really know how to eat, too! 4. Andrea Gillette shows the technique of a perfect Madrigal. 5. Performing at the Christmas Concert. 6. A routine rehearsal. 7. Anna Hays: when not talking, she's singing. ABOVE: 'Which song are we singing now?' wonders soloist Gayle Ledgerwood.

MEYER'S MIGHTY MOUTHS

Under the guidance of Mr. Bill Meyer, the new forensics coach, the debaters had a successful season. Although the team was in its rebuilding stages, the speakers kept an optimistic outlook on competition and compiled an impressive record. The more inexperienced members mainly competed on the JV level to gain poise and confidence in their verbal techniques. In a tournament sponsored by the Lompoc and Cabrillo forensic teams, the Braves placed fifth out of 16 schools with seven LHS students capturing one first, two fourths, with two persons advancing to the finals, adding to the score in the final round of competition.

RUMMAGING THROUGH MT. ABLE

With a long list of people, this year's AFS club didn't have any problems getting their long list of projects and activities done. The club was the biggest ever. Their year started off by holding a reception for Gladys Aguirre, the foreign exchange student from Argentina. Her host sister was Judy Spainhower. To make profits, the club had an enchilada dinner before the Righetti vs. Lompoc football game and had a rummage sale. To use these profits wisely, the club went to Magic Mountain and Mt. Able. To plan these numerous activities, Mr. Denton, their sponsor, kindly provided a classroom.

CREAM OF THE CROP ARE CHOPPED

Stricter requirements made this year's CSF a more elite organization. Even a 4.0 average could no longer guarantee membership, because of the subject area demands.

A day of 'enrichment' was enjoyed on February 11 with a trip to the LA Art Museum, the La Brea tar pits, Farmers Market, the CBS studios, and the final destination, Disneyland. USTANI GRINS AND CHESS CLUB WINS

Ustani Literary Club had a tough job selecting art work and the 20 best short stories and poems of more than 300 submitted. Art and English students supplied most of the works but there were submissions from other LSH students. The Ustani members, totaling eight, met on Tuesdays during lunch. They designed the layouts and all of the work was done by staff members. Mr. Bill Arnerich was the club's adviser. Copies of Ustani sold for 50 cents. The profits will go for next years edition minus a small portion for steak dinners for all members.

Winning league championship of the Central High School Chess League topped off the year for the Chess Club. They scored 18½ points out of 20, with seven other schools participating. Chess Club took second place in competition at Rolling Hills in October. Club members also brought home a tenth place trophy from the Western High School Championship in San Clemente. They planned to hold a 24 hour Chess Marathon to raise money for the club, to add to their profits from the popcorn booth. Mr. Norman Larson was the club's advisor. ODE TO FUTURE FARMERS

Skating around the lone prairie,
The FFA's party rang with glee!
Many, there for the very first time,
At the end of the night felt it a crime.
Because no matter how hard they tried,
Some landed on their butts and nearly died.
In cattle and sheep they excelled with ease,
Winning blue ribbons looked like a breeze!
Active all year, from rodeos to petting zoo,
FFA found time to go to the Cow Palace too.
Come spring, when 'men's fancies go wild,'
Girls got to take out their honeys in style.
With so much to do, it sure sounds like fun,
No wonder our future farmers are number one!

MUCH MORE TO IT THAN COWS & PIGS

Take three little pigs, two goats, and some rabbits; mix in, a horse, a cow, and two ducks; now add wide-eyed little boys and girls. What have you got? All the ingredients for a petting farm. This FFA displayed some of their animals at the United Church Learning Center's Family-A-Fair. Children were able to pet and play with animals not familiar to them. FACTS: Petting Farm, November 20; participated in Santa Barbara County Fair; sponsored the Sadie Hawkins dance held in the spring.

KNOTTING UP YOUR NANNY

In honor of National FFA Week, the Lompoc Chapter sponsored lunchtime happenings by starting the week off with a goat tying contest. Other amusements included a milk can rolling contest and an emblem hunt.

Unfortunately, the annual FFA Rodeo was cancelled this year due to high insurance costs, but is expected to occur next year.

1. Ted Coffee and Mark Simard relax and get into the music at the FFA skating party. 2. 'This stupid pinball machine took my money again,' exclaims Brad Jones. 3. And the race is on! 4. 'Ride 'em cowboy,' thinks John Markham as he gets ready for the contest. 5. An FFA'er ties his tag to complete the race. 6. Tony Armenta shows his style in the goat tying contest. 7. Greg Beard thinks skating backwards is a real joke.

GIVING OUT MONEY ISN'T EVERYTHING!

Need some money? Go to a student council meeting and just ask for it, but LHS's politics wasn't just giving out money. They discussed problems like across the street trouble, rotten assemblies and vandalism. They planned activities such as icebreaker dance, the student exchange, and Homecoming week. And most of all they tried to promote something that Lompoc High really lost this year, spirit and pride in our school.

PROBLEMS? JUST ASK THE COUNCIL

Outside of the confines of the Little Theater, the council's activities were all generally aimed at improving sorry situations, along with having a little fun. In an effort to erase the continuing complaints from across-the-street property owners, a group of diligent working senior council members repainted the apartment carports, which covered up all of the graffiti. An activity that has often been promised was finally carried out this year, that of having bands on campus during lunch. Also, the student council sponsored the Icebreaker and Homecoming dances, in addition to the second annual movie dance. And, finally, we can't leave out the incredibly well planned beach party-bar-b-que held at Refugio, Gaviota, Tajiguas, and free beaches all in one!

SONG SUNG BLUES HIT LHS CHIEFS

Working together in (almost) perfect harmony this year, the 76-77 SB officers and commissioners tuned up Lompoc High. They hired bands every two weeks to perform at lunch, starting on Valentine's Day with a loverly concert by Mantis. The head honchos also arranged the second annual movie-dance featuring a 'Hollywood Special' on April 15. In command of LHS and this gifted group was President Robert Hernandez; his chief advisor as Vice-President was Kevin Lisle. Also helping to run the show were Janet Jeffers, Secretary; and Greg Beard, Treasurer. Kevin Hicks and Jicela Guerra did a fine job in publicizing the activities supervised by Kathy Braun and Piper Warrick. The assemblies were in the hands of Paul Dugre, John and Charles Rios, and a new appointed special assembly committee.

1. 'Let me just lie back and figure the problem out,' says Kevin Hicks. 2. Kathy Braun states her opinion of the matter. 3. Greg Beard is hooked by the Christmas spirit. 4. 'Bop, bop,' thinks Kevin Lisle. 5. Jicela Guerra adds her 'toot' cents worth at the convention. 6. and 7. Johnny and Charles Rios combine their ideas, since two heads are better than one. 8. YEAR END HARVEST IS PROSPEROUS

Once there were two staffs. One was the LaPurisima staff, alias yearbook staff, and the other was the Smoke Signal staff, alias newspaper staff. Since they both were involved in the field of Journalism, the two staffs thought it might be neat if they got together to do some activities. So on one bright, sunny day the Quill and Scroll club was born. At the helm of this mighty club was Bobbie Bratz, with sidekick Ellen Lynch as her assistant. They wanted to show their love for the school. So the club's big project for the year was the carnation sale on Valentine's Day. Anyone in the school could send a carnation to their sweetie. The club also had a volleyball game between the two staffs to find out which was more athletically inclined. The members last big Hurrah together was their banquet, as they traveled over to Alexander's Harvest in Orcutt.

1. 'If I only had him for my own,' dreams Maria Aradillas of Scott Lindsey. 2. 'Isn't there a carnation for me?' wishes Debbie Welsh, while Janet Jeffers secretly prepares herself one. 3. 'I bet you could not talk if I tied your hands behind your back,' says Heidi Hedlund to David Elam. 4. Stern leadership and seriousness are qualities of being President as Bobbie Bratz proves. 5. Bobbie Bratz lectures Shawn Whitehead on unwrapping a bucket of carnations. 6. 'A quick whiff of carnations leaves me on Cloud 9,' says Toni Lewis.

LOWE'S LIVELY LUNATICS

In the past, yearbook staffs have been accused of being rather dull and uncreative. But, Renar shine, beat to death, and pounded with a Hamer, the yearbook deadlines kept an atmosphere that was Tosti warm, never Lowe. We had a lot of good iDiaz, and no Bratz on the staff. Anyone that was caught leaving early was Lynched. We would bring Aradillas to every deadline and our last idea was to take a long celebration journey, away from all of the Hicks and other people. We went to Lopez Lake and then turned around and went way on down to Samaniego, Ca., it seemed that every Pearson that we saw was White. We turned around once again and headed up to Coejo beach. The heat was almost unbearable, but luckily we all brought our Gillette Right Guard. We had heard that the beach was very rocky, but we found Sand ov al things. Our diet was quite basic, consisting of Lindsey ripe olives and Welsh's grape juice. We would use our fishing lures to catch birds, making them into Schuylers. Unfortunately, once while we were pitting olives, someone stole our car. We screamed, "Es co vedover that guy with a sledge-Hamer!" Well, we got the car back and had an exciting trip. Next year we plan to take a trip to London, England and Perez, France.

DRACULA HAUNTS THEATER

Underground tunnels, sliding panels and vanishing walls were part of the evils surrounding the mystery play 'Dracula's Treasure' by Dudley Saunders. The play centers around the Boone Family and the problems faced moving into a house that had been unoccupied for 10 years. It involved Dracula's attempts to capture the children and an eerie stranger who foils them. Performed in October, the play was enjoyable entertainment for the entire family. The cast included: Ryne Torres, Larry Faulkner, Trina Graham, Charlie Blake, Colin Perkins, Steve Escobedo, Kevin Weeks, Desiree Boykins. Production crew; Don Chisholm, Mike Hamlin, Dawn McIntosh, Eileen Marek, Bill Elliott, Robin Olson. Director: Mr. Bowen.

The third annual Haunted Theater had little kids from all over the city screaming in terror as they visited the ghouls and goblins in Lompoc High's Little Theater.

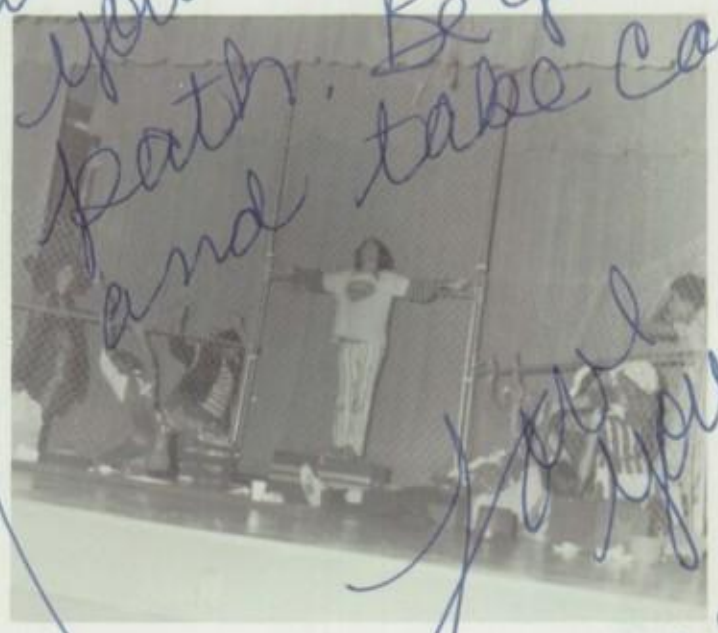
MUSICAL GODSPELL: GODSPELL

Tears were in the eyes of many who watched Jesus say goodbye to his loving disciples at the Last Supper, probably the most touching scene in Godspell. This famous musical adaption of St. Matthew's gospel was performed by the Thespians in January. Dressed in bright gypsy and clown costumes, Jesus and his friends portrayed humorous, down to earth reenactments of the parables. The audience immensely enjoyed Deeana's imitation of Ernestine, the telephone operator, calling a rich man on earth to inform him that he was being disconnected permanently! The cast included: Michael Hugen, Alfredo Pagapatan, Stephen Baker, Chuck Susee, Bob Maraszek, Debra Munoz, Debbie Braithwaite, Deeana Pampena, Diane Ellis and Anna Spear. The musicians were George Vega (director), Curt Gibbs, Jay Trent, Greg Levash and Lenny Levash.



1. Debbie Munoz and company perform 'Bless the Lord.' 2. Bob Maraszek takes it easy during intermission. 3. Debbie Braithwaite and Deeana Pampena, alone in the spotlight. 4. Mike Hugen and Alfredo Pagapatan with their interpretation of John the Baptist. 5. 'We Beseech Thee' sings Steve Baker. 6. Diane Ellis entertains the audience with 'Day By Day.' 7. 'I always get the rocks!' exclaims Chuck Susee. 8. Musical director George Vega conducts a rehearsal.

HANDBALL CHAMPS FLIP OVER READE

'Splish, splash, I was taking a bath . . .' Whether they wanted one or not, Thespian members who participated in the handball marathon received a thorough cleansing from an untimely September rainstorm. Their goal to set a World's Record of 80 hours of continuous play was washed away as the courts became water soaked. There was a rainbow after the storm however, as $500 was raised through pledges during the 52 hours of the game. The money was then donated directly to the Muscular Dystrophy Foundation.

Bringing the World's Greatest Acrobatic Mime, Flip Reade, to Lompoc in December was another Thespian contribution. Flip performed an outstanding assembly in which the students were spellbound by his acrobatic and mime skills. The highlight of the show was the skit 'Weight-lifter,' an act that took nine years to put together. The Thespians were so enthused about Flip's performance they asked him to appear as the Guest Artist at the Awards Banquet in May, and presented him with an Honorary Membership.

1. 'Keep your eye on the ball,' thinks Mike Hamlin. 2. Thespian members Anva Belle, Sandy Pack and Janet Manfreda present Flip Reade with a wall clock and check. 3. Shark player Larry Faulkner and Jet Bob Crass wait for the serve. 4. 'Hey fellas!' teases Chuck Susee.

Views

How do you feel about..?

In this special section of our book we felt the need to let Lompoc students express their own opinions and views on topics which are important not only to the society of our school but to each individual as well. The quotes are responses of LHS students.

Goals

Is school helping you reach them?

'I guess so, sort of. I do not feel that this high school is equipped to fully prepare you for your future, though.' 'No. Although a general education is invaluable, my schooling is not helping me enough in MY area!' 'I don't know. I haven't decided what I want to be. I suppose it has helped me with responsiblity and making friends.' 'Gets me ready.' 'I think that if you know what your goals are soon enough, then definitely high school will help you meet them. If you are like me and don't know what you want to do or be, then the general subjects are still able to help you find out, even if it's by the process of elimination.' 'It is for me because throughout high school I have chosen career oriented classes.' Everyone has a goal in life. How we go about reaching that goal is what makes each of us unique. While some spend most of their high school years preparing for their long range goals, others may feel that being involved in what is going on at school, now, is more important. Whichever road we choose to take, we must make our own decisions; once we are out, we are on our own.

Pride

What does it mean to you?

'Being better than all of the others!' 'Caring enough for your school to try to better it.' 'To support school by cheering on our teams and not talk bad about it.' 'To be proud of the school and all of the groups that compete athletically and scholastically.' 'Supporting the athletic teams and being proud that they represent you in their quest for success.' 'Trying to make the school and myself a little bit better.

Lompoc High's pride can be expressed by two things: Being proud and being supportive. Expression of support comes through attending competitive events and caring about the outcome. Being proud of Lompoc is trying to encourage our positive reputation while trying to discourage the negative one.

'People belong to groups for security and because they share common interests. It is good if the groups do not alienate other people, and if they do not become a gang.' 'Everyone needs to belong, to be accepted; it gives them the security that they need.' 'Its for identity; it helps people to find themselves.' 'A disadvantage is that a person might lose their individuality; become too habitual, too routine. It's better if you can move around and be comfortable with more than one group.' 'Because birds of a feather flock together.' 'It's definitely good.' Our country's society expects us to conform to certain basic standards, one of which is being part of a group. This may or may not be good, as we are often judged as a group member rather than as an individual.

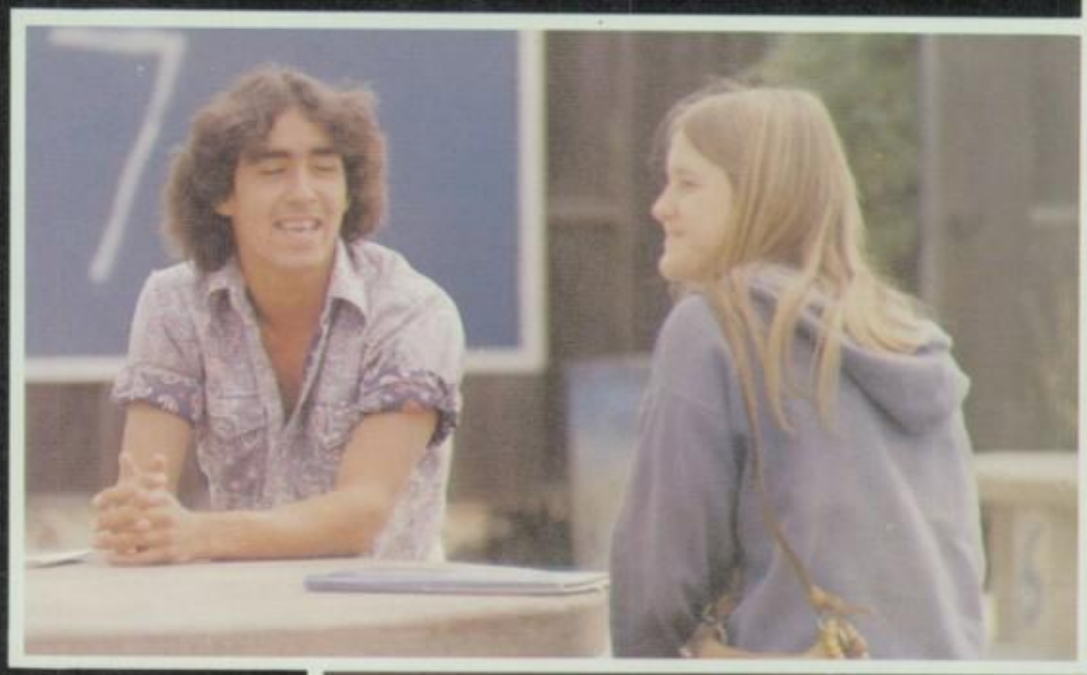
5

Groups

Are you labled unfairly?

1. Mike Mangino does the cha-cha while fellow freshmen look on in amazement. 2. Pat Bagwell, Dana Chatterly, and Glenn Gardner take life a little easier during lunch. 3. 'I don't care what my friends think, I'll still drink milk,' proves Dianne Henson. 4. 'Across the streeters' lose count of the cars going by. 5. Jocks show how much fun skipping an assembly can be. 6. Farmers make some plans for the big round-up at noon.

Has the meaning of school changed for you?



For at least ten years school has patterned our lives, whether or not we have wanted it to. We have grown through education and our relationships with others. Yet it is each individual's attitude toward school that reflects how much he will gain. 'School has made me realize how important learning is and how fun it can be.' 'I'm not sure because I haven't needed any changes yet.' 'It made me find myself, and gave me more self confidence.' 'It helped me grow up a little and face life.' 'I've gotten a little bit smarter, and there are more boys I'd like! Ha ha ha.' 'The school hasn't changed me, it is the people that changed me.'

Frank Silva tags out a CIF player. 6. Carlos Garcia and Connie Cunningham 'Dance to the Music' at the first dance.

Change

What's needed at Lompoc high?

Changes are part of everyday life. To make changes an individual must share ideas with others in the society. We asked, 'What would Lompoc's students change?'

'Pep assemblies should consist of more than just coaches giving speeches about the teams and also do something about boring skits.' ' Have some place for the smokers, besides the bathrooms.' 'Have either shorter lunches or more activities during lunches.' 'People shouldn't put others into groups.' 'Paint the lockers, it would liven this place up a whole lot more.' 'Dances should run later than 11:30 and the dance committee should make sure that the bands are good before hiring them.' 'Revise the tardy and cut policy.' 'Improve the cafeteria food and the conditions.' 'Encourage people not to litter around the school campus.' 'Students should be required to take level two classes and be able to take and pass proficiency tests to earn diplomas.'

1. 'Sure that's a good idea,' says Tracy Lewis.
2. Gene Knickrehm takes advantage of free eats.
3. 'Come on! Make room for me,' laughs Sissy Lee.
4. Cheerleaders put on one of their famous skits.
5. Wow! What a mess! 6. Mary Villalobos rushing to talk with Nancy, Christy, Ruthann before class.

'The more you put into the school, the more you will get out of it.' 'The thrill of competition!' 'It's fun to participate; I get tired of just watching.' 'It gives me a chance to be with other people.' 'To help out my school and feel as though I belong.' 'I like being a leader.' 'Well, being involved in sports makes me feel like a man!' The distinctive character of Lompoc High is created from the blend of varied personalities of the students. School activities form a more well-rounded environment.

Keith Moore, we know that's not a Surfer magazine you have; could it be Playboy?

Sex

Does Title IX change anything?

'I really don't think Title IX changes anything. People always talk about this non-discrimination thing, it's just a good excuse. A man's body is built to do one kind of work, and a woman's body another. I think people should do what their sex is supposed to do.' 'I think Title IX changes a little, but it can be extended too far. There should be some things that are kept for just men and women, for example: The Lettermans club, Homecoming queen, and bathrooms. If things keep going the way they are, they're going to have a sign on the bathroom doors saying, Persons.' 'I think Title IX changes a lot. I always felt that guys and girls were equal and if girls say they are equal to guys; they should have a chance to prove it.' People are realizing more and more that each individual must be judged on his personal values and talents rather than by their sex. Title IX is just one step toward this.

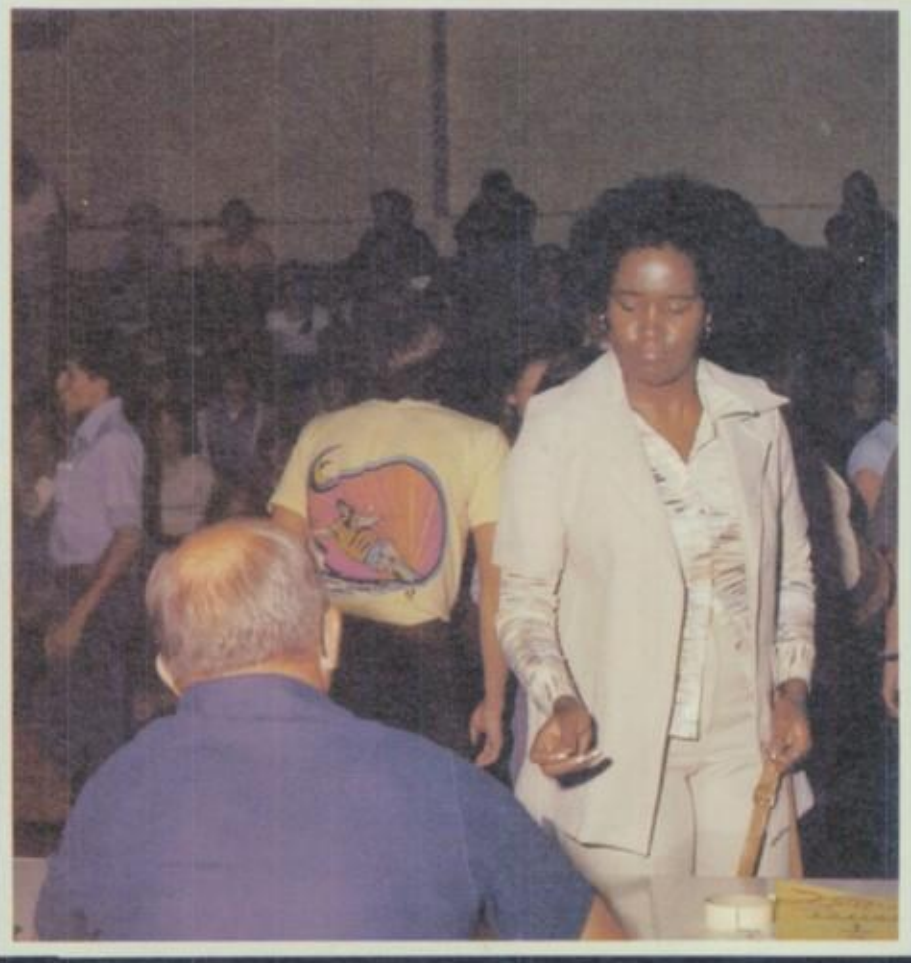
4



1. 'How do you put this together?' wonders Donna Tharp in Ag. Mechanics. 2. Shelly Smith, only girl starter on JV water polo, shows she's equal to the guys. 3. 'Using a saw is 'Not for Boys Only',' says Jo Ann Chism as she works on her project in class. 4. Earl Rolfson finally gets to scope on the opposite sex in his Co-ed PE class. 5. Anita Johnson feels kinda funny as she signs up for Co-ed PE.

The Individual

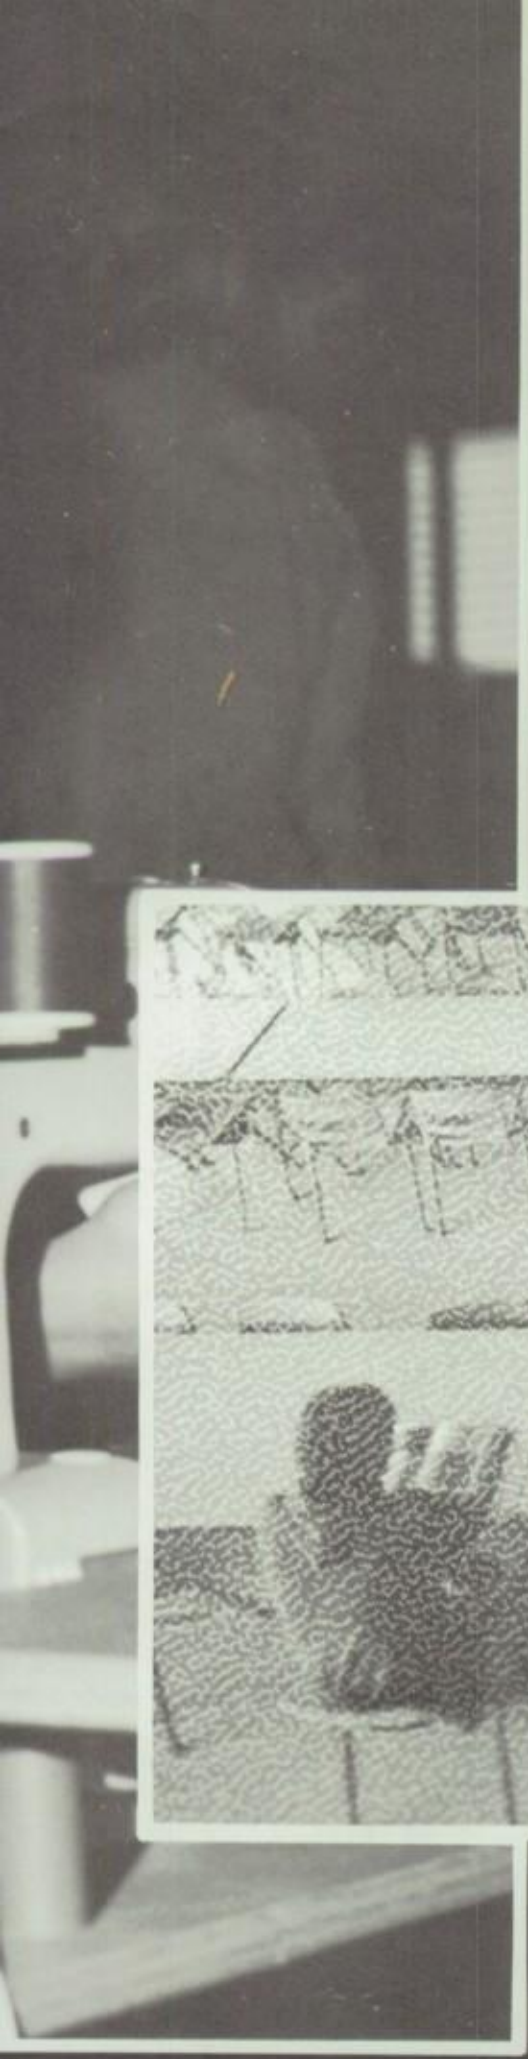
'I'm so glad I'm me'



I'M so glad I'm me. I really enjoy going across the street to spend some time with my friends. I feel relaxed when I just light up a cigarette. While I smoke I can find out what went on the night before, and make plans for that night. Some of my friends cruise on by, then pull over for awhile; we'll listen to a tape. I feel free across the street, I'm doing what makes me happy.

I'M so glad I'm me, for my athletic abilities set me apart from the next guy. Competition is a way of life for me. I love to win. My classmates urge me on and respect me when I do well, so I always work hard to improve. It's a year round thing for me, sports is. I work out in the off-season, and in the summer, because the better shape I'm in, the better the opportunity to win. That is the most important thing, you know.

I'M so glad I'm me. Music is my life. Without it I wouldn't have any outlet to express myself. Besides making music, I love to listen too; it's a part of me. Nothing can match the feeling you get when you know that the music you're performing is being enjoyed by others. It's a sharing experience, but my music always lets me be me.

I'M so glad I'm me, with many facts and figures constantly running through my head. My mind is always absorbing, computing, creating, or learning. I think life becomes a little more interesting each time I'm introduced to something new or different and acquire more knowledge. Also, I realize that there are a lot of benefits to having a good academic record; it's a big plus in the eyes of prospective employers and colleges. So, although studying can be a drag, it is the 'smartest' thing to do.

For whatever the reason, I'm go glad I'M me. Each of us is different, choosing our own paths to follow - but let's stay different; after all, if I was like you, then I wouldn't be an individual.

Party

was the name of the game for the seniors this year as the officers worked to unite the class of '77. They planned parties at the skating rink and pizza parlor exclusively for seniors. 'Overall, this year's senior class had a lot of enthusiasm and excitement. Many seniors participated in the activities and expressed spirit.' 'I think that John Mintz deserves credit for leading the way this year as senior class president. He always had ideas for fun events and getting other seniors involved.' 'I will always remember the 1977 year as the best while I was in high school.'

Kathy

Braun's industrious and assured manner helped her become a pacesetter. She participated in many aspects of campus life: athletics, student government and performing arts. She was honored by being selected Girl's State Representative and a DAR Good Citizen Finalist. Kathy has been a Lettergirl all four years, running track as a freshman and sophomore, and playing volleyball her junior and senior years. She was a junior class representative and was co-commissioner of activities this year. Kathy sang in concert choir for three years and was a member of Thespians for four. A CSF lifemember, Kathy made Honor roll every year. Being AFS host sister as a sophomore and the secretary-treasurer as a senior rounds out her many high school achievements.

'Ah, there goes the skate guard blowing his whistle at me again. I wasn't even going that fast.' This was the most often heard comment at the Senior skate party. Seniors spent the evening careening around the floor at the Village Skate Center, December 6. A good time was had by all and miraculously no one was hurt by many run away skaters.

1. Calvin Boler snickers as Larry Marshall loses his last ball. 2. Seniors show off their skating prowess. 3. 'Gee, do I want living color, or Royal color?' thinks Rick Cornejo. 4. 'Would you help us tie our skates?' giggle Lillian Jackson, Heidi Hedlund and Anna Domingos. 5. Denise Arthur and Chris O'Gorman.

Government classes were among the first to go as the class of '77 began their graduating year. Senior attendance dwindled second semester as they were required to take only the number of classes to graduate. Without PE being mandatory for upperclassmen, many seniors found it easy to bypass that particular phase of education this year.

Striving to make a mark on the school records as being super athletes, seniors were usually successful but sometimes disappointed. 'It makes me want to have a successful year because there isn't a next year.' 'It is only rewarding when I win.' Not everyone achieved their desired goals, but were glad to have tried.

David

Elam showed leadership in various fields. His outstanding ability in writing placed him on Smoke Signal his junior and senior years, and he was chosen editor his senior year. David participated in marching band his frosh and soph years, joined AFS his junior year and served as president in his senior year. His capacity to maintain good grades attained him a spot on the principal list all four years and enabled him to become a life member of CSF. David was a NCTE finalist and achieved the position of a Junior escort. David excelled athletically as well as academically. He obtained a varsity letter all four years in tennis. As a soph he was rated third in singles and second in doubles in league, and he was selected MVP; as a junior he became co-captain and MVP.

Perry

Self's classmates sometimes refer to him as 'Perfect Perry!' This sarcastic nickname in many circumstances isn't too inaccurate. Perry's grade point average is indeed perfect 4.0, which enabled him to be co-Valedictorian. His bold and confident appearance represents a lengthy list of accomplishments. Besides leading his class academically, in his senior year Perry was elected co-captain of the football team, a sport that he excelled in in each of his four years. Perry was awarded Teenager of the Month, English achievement award, DAR Good Citizen, Junior Escort, and was the Boys' State Representative. He participated in Concert Choir for three years, all of which he was also a Madrigal. Perry was on the Principal's list all four years, and was a CSF life member. The final dimension of Perry's accomplishments was as a Thespian. After appearing in two plays as a freshman, Perry played the lead in 'The King and I' which earned him the Actor of the Year award.

Debbie

Welsh was also perfect academically with a 4.0 grade point average, and co-Valedictorian. She was active in CSF all four years. Debbie spent a great amount of time in the field of music. She was a member of Pep band, Dance band, Orchestra, Symphonic Winds, Concert Choir and Madrigals. Debbie also demonstrated her talents in journalism as she was on this year's La Purisima staff and treasurer of Quill and Scroll. She qualified for the Principal's list in all four years, and was chosen Junior escort.

Harried

Seniors at Lompoc High each had their way of escaping the daily grind. Everyone has a favorite way of relaxing. Some have more diverse methods than others, but all agreed that an occasional foray away from the path of learning was of the utmost importance.

Shelley

Hamer's warm, fun-loving personality and her lively attitude helped place her on top of her class. Being willing to help out and get involved gave her a long list of accomplishments. Shelley was athletically inclined as she was on the girls' varsity track team her first three years, lettering each year. Her junior year she played volleyball on the junior varsity team. Shelley was also very talented in academics as well. She was on the Principal's list all four years and a Junior usher. Her freshman year she was a Mat Maid and Keywanette. Her sophomore year she was a class representative on Student Council and a Junior varsity cheerleader. With the knack for journalism, Shelley was on the La Purisima staff her last two years. Shelley is a great person, which is why she was a DAR Good Citizen semi-finalist and the 1977 Homecoming Queen.

Heidi

Hedlund mixed intelligence with a strong right arm and found herself ranked the most sportsmanlike player as a junior and number one female doubles tennis team in the league as a senior. But she surely wasn't spending all her time on the courts. She was in Keywanettes all four years, served as president as a senior. Her freshman year she began her career in CSF and eventually became a life member. Heidi was in concert band, on the Homecoming committee, and the school typing champion as a freshman. Her sophomore and junior year she was in FBLA, she was also on the Smoke Signal staff and in Quill and Scroll. Heidi was on the Principals list all four years, and Senior class secretary treasurer. She was a junior escort and chosen Girls' State alternate.

'Smile,

this one's for your mother!' 'Hey look, no one has any pimples!' Senior portraits were the first of many well-spaced twelfth grade expenses. Just around the corner there were announcements to be ordered, caps and gowns to be issued, yearbooks to be paid off, the Prom and last but not least, Disneyland.

We've got spirit,

yes we do! We've got spirit, how 'bout you? The novelty of high school had long worn off for many seniors with graduation (freedom) ever nearing. There was a noticeable lack of loyalty within the class of '77. This feeling of apathy may have been brought on by the new graduation requirements. By second semester, most seniors had so few classes that they rarely were on campus and seldom involved in activities. Still, there was a handful who tried to maintain their class' spirit as high as possible right to the end.

1. 'Ringo' Rios in concert.

Robert Hernandez's leadership qualities were best represented in his senior year, when he served as Student Body President. Never afraid to speak out, Robert's straight forward opinions kept the student council on their toes throughout the year. Robert was also president of AFS, and was an active member of CSF and Lettermen's club. Robert's fall months were taken up by football as he received a varsity letter in his junior and senior years. Robert's academic record was also superb, as he was placed on the Principal's list in each of his four years.

Money

was the reason most seniors gave for working, although some only earned experience at their Work Education jobs. 'I like the money.' 'I don't like it that much.' 'I'd rather work than go to school.' 'I like working but I don't get to see my friends at school much anymore.' 'I like to work; it's enough to make money and keep up with my studies.' 'I enjoy the contact with people.'

Janet

Jeffers can be summed up completely in one word, 'versatile.' Aside from being a CSF life member and on the Principal's List she dedicated her spare time to pitching on the Varsity Softball team for three years, making CIF player of the year; serving as Student Body secretary her junior and senior years, and working earnestly on the Smoke Signal. Participating in Keywanettes, FFA and Quill and Scroll made Janet stand out as one of the busiest students on campus.

John Mintz combined an efficient personality and a shy nature to attain the title of Pacesetter. He was especially recognized for his contributions in student government, acting as sophomore and junior class representative, and class president in his senior year. A versatile sportsman, he participated in water polo, basketball, and lettered in varsity tennis. His academic abilities placed him on the principal's list for three years, and made him a CSF life member this year.

Esteem

is experienced by these students chosen for their excellence in different forms. The Boys' and Girls' State award is given to three seniors, two boys and one girl, for their scholastic ability and leadership. This was the first year the DAR Good Citizen award was open to boys under Title Nine, and was won by Perry Self. The General Mills award is based on superior knowledge of basic homemaking skills, and was also won by a boy. Brilliance, excellence on test scores, and endurance are important qualities that make up a National Merit Finalist. Bank of America Plaques are presented to people in four academic areas.

Heidi—
I'll sign on a page
with Jr. Ushers on it (even if I'm not in the picture!) I'll always remember the hassle of those dresses, but it was worth it.
I'm so glad I had the
to get to know you better this year. Too bad it was in a sweet person — I know

you'll always remember I'll always remember you the very wishing you the very best of everything —

Touching

on various ideas and activities were just a few of the goals of this year's junior class officers. Holding car washes, dances and nominating a homecoming queen candidate were some of the ways they tried to achieve these goals. The success of the junior class was largely due to the outstanding participation of the class members. The elected officers led the class of '78' through a very rewarding and prosperous school year.

Busy Bodies

literally describes the junior class with all the activities that they accomplished this year. These included such fund raisers as a car wash-bake sale and running the concession stand at the Santa Maria game. Even though they had to save money to hold the junior-senior prom, the class of '78 managed to hold a dance in early Dec. Juniors didn't limit their energies only to class activities; many found time to be involved in clubs, sports and other interests.

Go for It

was a familiar cry among the junior athletes this year. Sometimes the long hours of practice and hard work seemed painful and time consuming, but they usually paid off in the end. Although different players had different reasons for going out for the teams, they all seemed to have had fun. For both the guys and the girls, sports gave them a feeling of satisfaction and accomplishment. Overall, the juniors showed a great sense of pride and achievement in their endeavors.

Mixed-

up and confused about what comes next, the new upperclassmen were forced to begin making decisions. The career center became a familiar place to search for college and job information. Another usual procedure for the juniors was having to sit through long hours of exciting adventure films of Hitler and Mussolini in U.S. History B. Now they were experienced and ready to take on classes like American Government.

Finally you have just come through your last underclassman year in flying colors. From the beginning you had spirit, but spirit really wasn't enough. Always working together as a team, class meetings had good turn outs and the cooperation was great. Games always had support from cheering junior fans. Best of all is that you played your part and you can be proud to say that you were a junior.

Sophomores

Came into office filled with determination
Leaders that guided sophomores to the future
Acted as chairpersons of class activities
Set up the tea for the graduating seniors
Stayed after until all activities were over
Listened to anyone who wanted to be heard
Eagerly put on a great ice cream party
Always attended student council meetings
Did all the things no one else wanted to do
Energetically put on a smashing dance
Raised a lot of money for a lot of events
Stood up for the class of '79' in every way

The Class of '79

worked hard this year to put on the greatest senior tea yet. They earned money for the class picnic and senior tea by working at the concession stand at the Righetti game, putting on a dance, and having their second annual yearbook signing Ice Cream Social.

Enthusiasm

is never lacking on varsity level, but even the J.V. teams got cheered on by the crowds. There were always plenty of people at the games, matches, or meets to let the players know they hadn't been forgotten. Many sophomores thrived on being athletes. In every sport, they did their best, which made the J.V. teams very difficult to beat.

You've done it.

You're no longer a 'hunt and peck' person, you're a typist . . . All those days of listening to the teacher drone on have paid off. You aced the test. Classes can't be all bad if they help you reach your goals. Sophomores realized that learning doesn't have to be boring. It is what you make it.

Now You Have It.

You have gone through two years of high school and by now you have all of the tricks of the trade down pat. You can express yourself and not worry what others may say. Sophomores showed their spirit in many ways. At assemblies, games and pep-rallies, you came through. Now you all know.

Spirited

Freshmen, led by President Jim Zook, showed exactly who they were and what they represented at the weekly pep assemblies, by defeating the other classes in the class yells. This most unusual feat happened on numerous occasions, clearly projecting a high level of spirit for the class of '80. Also working diligently to put on a dance and handle the Football concession stand, the Freshman Braves succeeded in making their first year at Lompoc High a productive one.

Happenings

took awhile to get under way for the freshmen as they situated themselves to L.S.H., but once the initial shock faded away, the officers led the Bravelets through an active year which included a football concession and a night dance. Always quick to show the Lompoc's pride, the youngest braves would always be there to blow the biggest bubble, eat the most jello, or stuff the most bodies in a V.W. (Even though it was a Toyota).

Under-developed, boney, skinny, inexperienced, and scared little freshmen tried to overcome these 'minor' obstacles of youth, to prove themselves to be worthy Lompoc High athletes. Through vigorous practices and sweaty, rough games, the frosh managed to produce many standouts. This showed that the Class of 1980 possessed a truly incredible amount of pride and spirit throughout the year.

Tongue-

tied with bewilderment at the first assembly when it was time for class yells, the freshmen did as freshmen always do (nothing)! But at the next assembly they were prepared and gave the three upper classes a lesson in spirit. During Cabrillo week the class of 1980 demonstrated that their muscles were as mighty as their voices. In the tug-of-war contest they flattened the studly Seniors.

Once upon a time there were two little freshmen. They came to high school with big ideas in their heads. The first little freshman dreamed of playing varsity football but his vision was flattened by the big studly senior. The second little freshman wanted to take a girl to Homecoming but the experienced senior with his charm and social status swept her off her feet. After their two attempts at making it in the big time, the senior told them not to give up, for one day they would fill his shoes and pass on this wisdom. The two little freshmen took his advice, and worked harder at whatever they did.

ADMINISTRATION CONTROL

Our administration was there to run our school smoothly and to make sure everything was okay. Their work and help is always needed, although sometimes forgotten. Whenever a word of advice, or assistance in choosing classes or careers was needed, the counselors were always there and willing to help. Without them we would be in bad shape.

ENGLISH CONCEPT:

English means communication . . . with other people through speaking and writing, with characters in fiction, with great ideas in literature. English means understanding and awareness of the world we live in and the people we deal with. These ideas take shape in courses through the elective program and through enrichments like the all day Communication Workshops and mini courses in Creative Argumentation, Sophisticated Storytelling, Romance of Greece.

MATH

$A^2 + B^2$

'You expect me to do that?' 'I don't understand!' 'A surprise test, how thrilling,' were some of the repeated expressions heard by the Math teachers. Day in and day out they withstood the numerous problems that come with being a teacher. FINE ARTS SKILLS

The fine arts classes let the student show self expression, whether it be painting a picture in art or putting a really neat frosting on a cake in foods. There were many options for the student to choose from. You could learn to play the trombone in band or find out how to make an organic design in Art Exploration. And then there was always the feeling of pride when someone complimented your clothes and you were able to say, 'I made it on my own in sewing.' Even though not all of the student's trys were successful they usually learned as well as had fun working on their own creative projects.

PE MIX-UP

'You mean I don't have to take P.E.?' The P.E. requirement was changed to only six semesters this year. Yet the classes were still full because they were all co-ed! Students had twice as many activities and teachers to choose from, which was to their liking. There were disadvantages of the mixed classes, though. Mrs. Stensland stated, 'I've really enjoyed teaching co-ed P.E., yet the students are much more inhibited. Where they used to come out and blow off steam, now they are embarrassed to completely relax and be themselves!

BUS-FOR LANG NEGOCIO

'You mean I don't have to keep up with my neighbor in typing and shorthand anymore?' The Business Department this year decided that because everyone has different abilities, they should allow students in both shorthand and typing classes to work on an individual basis. Due to the demand for Accounting I, the Business Department agreed to begin a new, year course of Accounting both semesters this year instead of one. 'Foreign Language boring? You've got to be kidding! It really interests me. It gave me the option I wanted, to be able to communicate with people who speak other languages than English.' 'Como se llama? (What is your name) is the only thing I can say, I just can't get the hang of it!' 'All you have to do is be interested in learning how to speak it.' Foreign Language is not a must at Lompoc High, but a lot of students do take courses in German, French, or/and Spanish. People thought it was interesting and the teachers here made it fun to learn.

SCIENCE EXPLORE

Whether disecting frogs in Biology or studying atomic theory in Chemistry, the science teachers here at Lompoc High strive to make the world of science appealing to the students. With diabolical methods of attention holding, and even an occasional field trip, the scientific instructors managed to fill up their courses with at least semi-interested students. All courses offered except Biology are strictly elective.

SOCIAL STUDIES
OUR PAST

Sophomores were a little shocked when they listened to Mr. Bodary talk about the 'bare' facts. Arab oil sheiks and semester projects were two things underclassmen remember most about Mrs. Carter. And poor Mr. Daugherty, the dear man, got stuck with six U.S. history 'A' classes. Mr. Hill enjoyed the worried looks and expressions of guilt as his students were given the lie detector test. Mr. Johnson's guitar playing and Mr. Okun's dramatic lectures kept kids coming back again for more education.

1. Mr. Dan Johnson. 2. 'Oh, this one's a toughie.' thinks Kathy Thompson. 3. 'What am I getting into?' thinks Jay Parrack, as Glen Seavey looks on. 4. Brian Farley grabs a few winks while pretending to study history. 5. Mr. Daugherty points out some very important facts. 6. Melissa Despain expresses a great interest in history, as she prepares to answer.

SOCIAL STUDIES

ROOTS

'. . . a government of, by and for the people . . .' Who said that? You can be sure Mr. Vass' American Government classes knew. After a year's leave of absence from Lompoc High, Mr. Vass returned to the department with updated and tougher teaching methods.

Numerous seniors missed their chance to vote in the '76 presidential election last fall by just a few months. These soon-to-be 18 year olds will be well prepared the next time around however, as sample ballots were studied in Mr. Peterson's classes.

1. Stephen French finds his work amusing. 2. David Hooker strikes a studious pose. 3. Susan Kessler, those aren't history notes you're smiling about, are they? 4. Tito Pascua thinks his shades are much cooler than social studies. 5. 'I hope I can hold my head up until the end of the chapter,' thinks Dennis Bailey. 6. Josie Gonzales' work piles up! 7. 'If I stare at it long enough maybe it will go away,' hopes Anita Johnson. 8. 'Why am I reading this?' ponders Julie Willems. 9. Chelle Martischewsky recopies her work.

SERVICES

HELP!

'Old Faithful' describes our service staff. These professionals dedicated their time to people with special needs but were always willing to help any student, whether his need was emotional or educational.

You can change Society if you wish

In the end, it is each one of us who, while being guided by Society, has the power to change it. Simple decisions like going to a dance or not going to a pep assembly display our feelings and individuality which influence those around us. Today our Society is going through drastic changes. It is becoming far more liberal, more oriented to the individual. Whether or not this is good is for each of us to decide. We are the individual ones who must live with these changes.

Appreciation

1. Andy Escovedo plays 'spaceman' after many long hours of deadlining. 2. "Only 13 hours!" grins Scott Samaniego. "That's what he thinks," sighs Mr. Lowe. 3. 'Bubbles' Bratz. 4. Scott Lindsey gives himself a manicure. 5. Ellen Lynch and Garry Tosti at their 'Favorite' pastime: headline making.

5

The society and individual have many meanings to different people. In choosing this as our theme, we thought it time that the students of LHS had a chance to voice some opinions and see the views of those around them. The La Purisima staff's thanks go to Mr. Jay Ratcliff for enduring our seemingly endless interruptions on route to the darkroom; Mr. Robert Paisola, Mr. David Herber and the rest of the faculty for their patience and cooperation; Mr. Viga Hall and last but not least, Mr. Jim Lowe, our 'never say die' sponsor and friend.

Heidi!
You actually made it! I'm glad we have retained friends for so long. Time flies so shrinkingly quickly to adventure!
Good, immediate good old FOLA. How

I don't know; I'm glad things so all are. You did a great job as keynote pro. I hope you like the paper weight from your dear friend, Lee, me up a Tam. Thanks. I would called like water connected in Palo Alto. Then we could come home together. Late one always. Don't get into any Mideast with those college antics.

Love always, your childhood friend

Heidi!
You a special Quarm! I found so many old friends and made just stamped, & hope gains to you don't
much, see you later
John

Heidi,
The Signal was a blast this year.
The broadcast was a success and with you as anchor-
I don't know what I could have done without. I'm sorry I got you the chocolate raisins hang up. Heidi that chinese fire drill was great.
there's so much we did together. Oh Heidi I don't know what I'll do next year without you there. Please come by to Paul's if I do tapes there or if I go to S. & S market for raisins
I'll probably write more.
Anyhow how does it feel to be a Senior "Has been"
Love ya and I'll miss ya
Rocko "78 is great

Heidi,
Well, this year was has been full of activity for you all. Congratulations on your super achievements - you're such a stud!
Heidi - you are such a super person and I've enjoyed all the things we've done together-from lunchtable talks to student council to the movies (sob! sob!) We have to keep in touch, okay?
Write me from Stanford!
If you wanna go to the movies again - just give me a call. I'll love you -
Ulove always,
Kathy Brown

Heidi
Well congra ulations you
finely made it through all four years. Slim so glad I made my Smoke Signal bits made my junior year a little bit better.
actually it made my junior year a whole lot better. Thanks for all the help! (sorry about all the mistakes.) You gave me the advise. Well have a super time at college next fall and think Lompoc and Smoke Signal often. Come by and visit sometime.

Love, Lewis

- Heidi -

We've made it! After Friday we'll have no more high school. Are you happy or sad. I'm a little of both. I really enjoyed having you in all the classes that I did. I guess we've gone back as far as 7th Grade German I. Try not to laugh too much at my writing, I'm not on Smoke signal or nothing like that. Well, I want to wish you the best of luck next year at Stanford. I sure hope that we can See each other. (Maybe at the USC - Stanford games), You're too much of a good friend too just say good + bye to. I'm running out of room here so you be sure to have a nice summer.

Love
Keith

Heidi,

What will I do next year with my "guidance counselor"? I don't know how you put up with me, I was a real bum. Anyway thanks for all you advice and encouragement thoughout the last two years. I figure that I went through "crushes" (if you can call them that) with .5 "people" (amazing) this year. I'm really glad that we got to be such good friends in high school (+ junior hi). I will definitely miss you when I'm at UOP next year. Have a good time at Stanford next year (don't study too hard). Give me your address so I can write you next year. Hope to see you next (I mean this) summer and during vacations next year.

Yours Truly
David

-Heidi- We're finally getting out of this rotten place! I've had the pleasure of knowing you for about 5 years now, and I've enjoyed every one of those years. I offer you my congratulations on your fine news casts. I thought you sounded very good. Too bad we didn't have any classes together these ~~pas~~ recent years. We could have had a lot of fun. Have fun at SDSU next year. With Garry + Rhonda down there, it shouldn't too dull. I'll probably see you next year, 'cause I plan to visit both whenever I can. I wish you lots of luck in the future, and maybe I'll see you this summer. Take care and have fun. love,

Scott Samaniego

Merry Xmas

Heidi,

If anyone will make it you will, there's no doubt about it. We've known eachother for quite awhile but never really got to know eachother real good. You are really sweet and will have al minimum of problems in life. So good luck and take it all one step at a time.

Love
Cindy Elliott

-HEIDI-

THAT IS REALLY THE FIRST CLASS THAT I HAVE HAD YOU IN AND I THINK YOU ARE A VERY NICE PERSON AND THAT I FEEL YOU WILL VERY MUCH SUCCEED IN COLLEGE, I WISH YOU THE BEST OF LUCK IN THE FUTURE AND DON'T FORGET THE PHYSICS CLASS AND ALTHOSE TEDIOUS EXPERIMENTS.

LOVE ALWAYS,
PAUL
